

COURSE CAPACITY GUIDELINES

DATE APPROVED: September 16, 2016

DSLCC is committed to providing students with individualized instruction and small class sizes in order to provide for the high academic standards called for in our mission statement. A maximum course capacity ensures a responsible ratio of students to instructor in order to provide for academic integrity and individualized instruction.

NOTES

- The rules above are guiding principles; exceptions to these guidelines may occur in order to meet program needs.
- The maximum seating capacity of a room will always take precedent over the capacity guidelines above.
- Capacity in dual enrollment high school classes may be larger but not to exceed 30.
- The Jackson River Governor's School will set its own course capacity guidelines but not to exceed 30.
- Some science courses may combine multiple science labs into a single lecture, but the lab itself will not exceed capacity.
